WEED CONTROL

Today, crop loss from weeds costs Canadian farmers at least twice as much as taxes on tillable land. Weeds not only lessen the value of your crops but they also take up moisture and food elements from your soil.

Fighting weeds successfully calls for a lot of practical experience, and an intimate knowledge of the problems posed by the various types of weeds. Before starting an "all-out" weed control campaign, you could probably save yourself a lot of work by consulting your nearest Experimental Farm or Agricultural College. They will gladly put the findings of their studies in successful weed control at your disposal.

Should your problem be a financial one, this bank cordially invites you to discuss it with the friendly manager of our nearest branch. His financial "know-how" is yours for the asking, too. He has helped many others—perhaps he can help you.

Do you remember the old-time "copy-books" we used to use at school to teach us to write properly? You had to slant your letters - I never could keep my pen pointing to my right shoulder so as to get the proper slant.
I invariably got my pen too deep into my inkwell and I was a sorry sight by the time the writing period was over. I would be ink from stem to stern!

I can remember "dear teacher" trying so hard to cure one of the boys who would always, as she said, "write with his tongue."
He kept the tip of his tongue thrust out, and every stroke of the pen he made his tongue would follow it. It was really fascinating to watch him - he seemed to be working so hard.
I never could, no matter how I tried, write any other way but a "school girl fist," as my teacher said. And as to trying to disguise my writing, it was, and is completely impossible to this day.

The long beautiful flourishes were not for me - and I did so long to be a "pretty" writer - you know the dainty lady-like writing everyone admires so much. She said I held my pen too tightly, so I'd try and relax, and let it go more freely - and she'd say it looked as if a spider had been crawling over my pages. I was always in despair - but somehow I managed to "pass," which is the goal of all scholars.

Gay Ink Wipers
I learned to moisten the corner of my blotter to soak up big blots when I'd dip my pen too far into the ink - I always kept a little match box full of matches to rub the ink off my fingers with the sulphur end. What gay
"ink wipers" we used to have!
I had one with a little dog sitting on a mat, and it was the envy of the other girls till somebody "swiped" it. Then I had one with the "three wise monkeys" sitting on a leather mat with felt underneath. It said
"Don't monkey with anything on this desk."

One girl, who had beautiful fair hair, always wiped her pen off on her hair - her "bang" - and I used to ask her not to do it, but to use my penwiper, but she'd forget and do it again everytime - and consequently she always had ink stains on her pretty hair.

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G.
Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

Elementary schools were made free by the School Law Improvement Act, 1871, for all pupils from five to 21 years of age. Compulsory attendance at Elementary Schools for four months of the year, later 100 days, for children from seven to 12 years of age, was required. Compulsory local taxation for education was also enforced.

The city of Toronto began negotiations with the Furniss Estate the following year, to buy the works and franchise of the Metropolitan Gas and Water Company. This was the beginning of city ownership. The supply of water, particularly for the use of the fire department, was inadequate and the city was forced into public ownership of civic services by the inefficiency of the private companies. An electric fire-alarm system was completed for the city of Toronto about this time. A year after this the city of Toronto took over the responsibility for supplying water to its citizens.

Mr. John G. Howard presented High Park containing 165 acres of land and Colborne Lodge to the city in return for a pension of $1,200 per year.

The Municipality Act of 1873 authorized all municipal councils to be elected by the people on the first Monday in January.
This affected Toronto as the mayor had been chosen by vote

Oh those copy-books were my despair, but I liked the mottoes - the slogans, I suppose the boys and girls would call them now - at the top of the page for us to copy. Many of them were taken from Scripture, from the Book of Proverbs written by good old King Solomon and many of them still remain in my memory. You know them too, quite likely: a soft answer turneth away wrath; knowledge is power; a little learning is a dangerous thing;
wisdom is better than rubies; stolen waters are sweet (that always reminded me of green apples); pride goeth before a fall; hope deferred maketh the heart sick; spare the rod and spoil the child (There was one about a "sluggard" but I can't bring it to mind); righteousness exalteth a nation; a merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance;
a wise son maketh a glad father;
and one about "slow to anger"
that I can't recall either; wealth maketh many friends; a good name is better than riches.

Quite likely I have not remembered them correctly, and I am sure others will recall even more. You can see how our copy-books fastened them in my memory even if I may not have them perfect. Good old copy-book, even if I never could write like the copy!

The Red Barn Theatre at Jackson's Point, in one of the skits in the revue "Rollin' the Hay," burlesqued the Canadian National Exhibition grandstand performances past and present. The title of the skit was "Miss Maisie Carries On." Miss Maisie is a C.N.E. performer in the grand style. Dressed in a made over costume which must have belonged to the actress who played Britannica at the opening of the Crystal Palace, Miss Maisie portrays Canada on a float garnished with cardboard fishes (for the Maritimes), an Indian, a Mounted Policeman and a couple of beavers.

She insists that she will indeed carry on despite Olsen and Johnson, Miss Canada in a skin-tight bathing suit, and racing car drivers. After all, she has been a fixture at the Ex for several decades and even been sponsored by Massey-Harris. Mr. Hughes may favor more modern forms of entertainment (sniff) but Miss Maisie will go on stage regardless (sniff).

With all due respect to Mr. Hughes' acute sensitivity to what the public wants, it is a sorry sight to see Miss Maisie led out to pasture. Mrs. Isabella Ross and Red Barn producer Brian Doherty notwithstanding, we fear Miss Maisie has had her day, but what a day it was with "Wolfe on the Plains of Abraham" and "Brock Storming the Heights at Queenston" done in fireworks while thousands of popcorn crunching school children oohed and aahed the splendor.

The change in entertainment fashions at the grandstand is reflected throughout the present-day exhibition. Nowadays, the emphasis is on the "streamlined" fair and a devotion to new ways to part the customer from his bucks. Oh, the "ex" is still the biggest show on earth and they are expecting two and a half million visitors, but the small-town, homey atmosphere is smothered under the odor of fried onions and candy sticks. But what would you? Times are changing and if the "ex" patrons prefer a name band to a trip through the livestock building, we doubt if Mr. Hughes has much choice but to get more name bands. And if Danny Kaye takes top billing over the working model of a pulp and paper factory—well, write it off to the post-war generation.

The genius of Mr. Hughes, it seems to us, lies in the fact that he can assemble sufficient variety and interest to have something for everyone of two and a half million.

Prime Minister St. Laurent will open an exhibition on August 25 which has more than 1,000 industrial and government exhibits and offers about 100 major events daily. The United States Air Force Band will be in the bandshell, and for the sport-loving, there will be marathon swims, motorboat racing and water-skiing; athletes will vie in the grandstand arena and a new world softball championship team will be decided as it has in other years.

In the agriculture show farmers will be able to view the bluebloods in the livestock world, match their products against stern competition and learn new methods of land and livestock management. The agricultural prize list, now $125,000 has been substantially increased this year for cattle, sheep, swine, breeding horses and poultry—a move to offset increased costs of exhibiting with which farmers are faced.

An important display this year will be the Tri-Service show, depicting Canada's defence methods. The latest in jet aircraft will be exhibited, and the Navy will present a skirmish between radio-controlled models of a submarine and a destroyer in a 45,000-gallon "ocean" contained in a specially constructed 40 by 60 foot canvas tank.

Second annual trade fair

The second Annual Trade Fair, sponsored by the Newmarket Horticultural Society in conjunction with its annual gladiolus show, opens tonight in the arena. It is an event of some significance as well as offering a preview of the quality products which are carried in Newmarket stores. It is the first public event in the arena since the foundation for the new floor was laid, and it represents an undertaking which if encouraged will blossom into a full-fledged fall fair.

Fairs serve a very real purpose, a purpose which is being remembered again after a lapse of some years. They advertise the shopping advantages of a community in a manner which cannot be otherwise duplicated. All shops have a brisk bread and butter trade in products in common usage. What is not often realized by shoppers is that the same shops can provide in many instances the quality products which their customers are in the habit of going out of town to purchase. The fair re-emphasizes the variety and excellence of Newmarket as a shopping centre.

This year's fair is more ambitious than its predecessor. Over 20 merchants are represented and the variety of products ranges from cars to sewing attachments. The fair will last three days and the exhibitors have prepared a number of special attractions to maintain public interest. Opening night includes the Lions club bingo, promised to be largest Newmarket has ever seen. Friday night, the exhibitors are planning draws and give-aways. And on Saturday, the flower and vegetable displays will be set up.

Newmarket's fair comes during a crowded calendar. Last weekend there was the Sutton fair. On Wednesday, the Lions club opened its two-day carnival. Other events are planned for the weeks after the fair. But the variety offered by the fair and the importance of its success to Newmarket and district suggests that there is an undertaking which should have the fullest support. Upon that support rests the eventual development of a complete late summer fair of an importance and magnitude in keeping with Newmarket's position in North York.

Union in 1887

Proposals for the economic, if not political, union of Canada and the United States have been a dime a dozen in modern times. Such proposals pre-date even the turn of the century. In 1887, York county council, alarmed by the revocation of the Reciprocity Treaty, ventured into international affairs with the resolution:

"This council desires to put on record their views regarding the relations of trade and commerce between Canada and the United States and having considered the great injury done to the agricultural interests by the revocation of the Reciprocity Treaty, the inconvenience and expense of customs duties, as well as the advantage we would gain by more liberal and equitable trade relations between the two countries, this council would recommend the basis of Commercial Union between Canada and the United States."

The reference is contained in the history of York county which has been appearing in weekly installments in The Era and Express. The concern echoes strangely in these times when a good deal of our energy is spent on overcoming the dollar gap which exists between the two countries and when trade barriers such as York councillors never visualized in the good old days have become an essential part of every administration.

Growth in Newmarket

Main St. in Newmarket has undergone much change in the past two or three years with the construction of the Loblaws building, and the addition to the store of J. L. Spillette and Son. Other stores on the same side of the street have renovated their fronts and interiors. Across the street, the construction of the new theatre has completely changed the appearance of that section and the work continues with the placing of new store fronts on the Boyd and McMath Real Estate office and Fines Jewellery Store. Work is still in progress at Riddell's Bakery on the east side and the building adjoining the theatre on the west side is having a new cellar placed under it.

To the north on Main St. the pressure of expansion is gradually extending the business section. The former Dr. Boyd residence has been converted into a business block. Farther to the north, on both east and west sides, new business places have been opened. There is much speculation about how the long awaited paving of Davis Dr. will affect the north end. There is enthusiastic talk of the development of a second business section east and west on Davis Dr.—indeed a start has been made to the far west where there is an implement agency, used car dealer, soft-drink warehouse and indications of a new sub-division.

Residential areas are opening up new prospects for the home builder with two sub-divisions to the west of Newmarket offering a wide choice of sites. House building has extended to within easy hailing distance of Yonge St. along Eagle St. and negotiations are underway between the township of Whitechurch and the town of Newmarket on the amalgamation of land lying between Newmarket and Yonge St.

The growth in Newmarket is duplicated in varying degrees in Aurora, Richmond Hill and other North York municipalities. The plain truth is that the north end of the county is beginning to fill up. A surprising number of the new residents are refugees from city, seeking city advantages combined with the amenities of small-town living.

Toronto never changes

If the Canadian National Exhibition is one of Toronto's outstanding attractions, it is also one of the city's major embarrassments, at least for self-appointed censors of the public morals. No exhibition has been complete without a raging preliminary in press and council chamber on the moral acceptability of some of the exhibition's undertakings.

True to form, the battle has been joined again this year with Councillor Balfour bitterly protesting one of the art gallery exhibits as "not the kind of picture to be shown to the citizens of Toronto". The picture in question was painted by Paul Cadmus and entitled "Sailors and Floozies". Mr. Balfour's objections are made on the behalf of mothers of sons entering the navy. All the time their sons are in service mothers will worry about them getting into the kind of mess depicted in the picture, Mr. Balfour explains.

If Mr. Balfour seems to be taking in a large territory when he presumes to speak for the tastes of Toronto citizens, it must be remembered that it is an old Toronto habit to be so presumptuous. The city presumed that the suburbs would leap at the chance to be amalgamated and was hurt and uncertain when the suburbs showed no such inclination.

Those responsible for the choice of the picture are, we imagine, concerned with its merits only and we had not heard that the viewing of the painting was obligatory. Perhaps if Toronto's self-appointed guardians were to let visitors to the fair form their own opinion, they would make the city less the butt of the jokes and digs so common to its existence.

Extending responsibility

Three municipal developments in Newmarket, though unrelated, show a deepening acceptance by council of a widening municipal responsibility. The first of these is the preparations for the construction of a sewage disposal plant. Newmarket has always dumped its raw sewage in the Holland River to the increasing distress of those downstream. Possibly council might evade the issue another year or two, as the issue has been evaded in the past, but there is now an unquestioning awareness of its need and an acceptance of Newmarket's immediate responsibility in doing its share towards the cleaning up of the river.

The second development is the proposal for a new kind of garbage collection during which the garbage is processed so that when it is dumped, it is more easily covered. This, we understand, will permit a more sanitary garbage collection and disposal. It represents a considerable advance over the present practice of collecting garbage in open trucks and dumping it, as is, in wasteland.

The third development is a resolution introduced in council last Monday calling for a by-law for the regulation of smoke which is "in such quantities and of such density as to cause a nuisance and be of discomfort and inconvenience to the citizens".

Of the three decisions by council, the first, provision for the construction of a sewage disposal plant, is the most pressing. There is no disputing its need as a health measure. The same reason applies in a lessening degree to the new garbage disposal scheme. The most immediate grounds for the smoke by-law are "discomfort and inconvenience". What is singular about all three proposals is that they share an extended concern for municipal welfare.

Each of the three developments is an old story in larger municipalities. Even some of the smaller municipalities have had their sewage disposal plants, their protected garbage collections, their anti-smoke by-laws; we doubt, however, that there are many municipalities of the size of Newmarket which have made such forward steps in such a limited time. Granted that in the instance of the sewage disposal plant, the need has been long felt and that earlier councils had plenty of cause to act in their day. But the fact remains that Newmarket's administration has shown a new willingness to assume responsibilities which still remain untouched in other centres of comparable size. For that, council should be commended.

Office Cat reports

Catnips By Ginger

I saw one of the town fathers the other day sitting at the edge of Fairley Lake. Every few minutes he scooped up in his palm some of the green scum off the surface and contemplated it morosely. Beside him lay a text book on civics for grades six to eight.

"In what, pray, are you so engrossed, wise and learned town father?" I asked.

"I have read your treatise on the causes behind this green scum and I am sitting here doubting their probability. Inner Mongolian Glump!" he said. "I'll just bet there's no such thing at all! It's foolishness."

"Taint foolishness," I said. "You haven't even been able to offer an alternative to my theory (Era and Express, August 3) yet."

"Tis foolishness," he said. "Anyway we don't believe in theories. The age of superstition and fear is past. Besides I won't say anything before I talk to the solicitor first."

"Taint foolishness," I said. "Tis."

"Taint."

At that moment the chief magistrate himself appeared on the scene and said, "I'll certainly be glad when there is a new covered garbage pucker truck. It will certainly eliminate attraction for those Inner Mongolian Glump flies which have been migrating to Fairley Lake. I killed 20 of them in my office this morning."

The face of the lesser civic politician twitched once. He gathered together his books and quietly and sadly went off down the street.

As I have always said, a chief magistrate has a five mind, devious though may be. If you don't that our mayor said all him. By this time he be away on holidays.

This week a Toronto newspaper made a horror which can never be en. The cut lines under page picture of new British tanks said they had Rolls Royce Merlin engines (which are piston engines), as used in World War II Spitfire fighters.

But the paper added that they are the same engines as used in Meteor aircraft. Such ignorance! The Gloster Meteor is a jet aircraft. When will these dailies ever become efficient enough to get even the simplest data straight?

This correspondent, your favorite cat one, notes that the particular daily in question employs an aviation editor. But of course, maybe he is on holidays. We flying enthusiasts are sensitive about such errors in fact.

Our favorite information office, the British information office, told us in a press release: "The Edinburgh Festival authorities have announced the cancellation of all performances of Professor Skappa's Puppet Theatre (Prague), scheduled to appear in the Central Hall, Edinburgh, between 4th and 9th September."

Those in Newmarket who planned to attend Professor Skappa's Puppet Theatre will have to cancel their reservations.

by "Back Concession" The Top Six Inches

Beverly Baxter, writing in Maclean's magazine, says that out of the experiment of socialism in Britain, we can expect a reformed or improved capitalism. The article does not say in what way the improvement will be made.

Many industries are now sharing the profits with their employees. Some firms have pension plans, hospital and medical insurance partly paid by the employee and the remainder paid by the company. When the fear of sickness and old age is eliminated, there is a marked improvement in the efficiency of the workman and output is increased.

One writer gave all the credit for social reforms in Canada to one party. That is narrow thinking. For years, all political parties, church groups, lodges, service groups and individuals have been thinking in terms of betterment of society. To say that any one party or group gave Canada what social security we have is not sticking to facts.

The right of everyone to the fruits of his own labor is recognized. With the prospect of a large soft wheat crop in Ontario before the crop was cut, the price of wheat was crowded down. With one week of wet, dull weather, a lot of the wheat in Ontario has started to grow. Grain that was left standing for the combine has started to grow. There will be a comparatively small part of the Ontario wheat crop fit for milling.

Supply and demand is not allowed to work here. There will be a very small supply and should have a higher price. Every harvest this goes on — the price is forced down until after most farmers have sold their grain.

We have plenty of farmers who still think supply and demand and prices will adjust themselves. What we don't want is the adjustment to be at the expense of the farmer.

When a presentation is made to our government, it is the custom to tell how many people are represented and the good it will do to the country. When farmers or labor meet the government it makes headlines news that they want and the number they represent. When the government was approached to again make legal the gambling in grain by allowing the grain exchange to operate, it was for the advantage of a comparatively small group of the people of Canada. The most essential thing in our economy is grain. Without it, we could not have meat, eggs, milk, butter, bread. Those are the most important foods in our diet. A minority group benefits from the grain exchange at the expense of the majority.

The farm forums recently called the farmers to study marketing of grain. To call a meeting of farm people in harvest time is very unusual but what is more unusual was the report that there was an increase in numbers attending.

We have a soft wheat board formed to market our wheat. This must have the support of the farm people. We have a movement started to take speculation out of our food supplies. How can the farm people help these two movements? In York County we have somewhere around 150 school sections. We should have one farm forum in each school section.

The weight of numbers is what we need to have at least one from each farm at our farm forum each meeting. The numbers of farm people attending farm forums are watched very closely by our government. A very few people were able to open the grain exchange but it influence the government to be going to take large numbers to influence the government to close the grain exchange.

Every farm family can start and attend farm forums — be sure and send in the number attending your forums to the central office. Cheerio.

Carnival a success; Ratepayers to seek Own man on council

A meeting to determine the net income from the Oak Ridges Lions carnival held on the school grounds early in August will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 22. The success of the two-day event, which was attended by large crowds, indicates a substantial profit. More than that, members feel the strong effort applied to carry out their first venture in this field has been well repaid in the patronage extended over a wide territory by those interested in promoting welfare work of the newly organized Lions club. While the evenings were somewhat chilly interest was enthusiastically maintained in the variety of activities.

The pony rides conducted by Miss Marilyn Hawman brought in well over $20. Bingo attracted old and new fans and while the afternoon ball clubs of King and Oak Ridges were not too well matched, the evening game between the locals and a senior King team played out a tie on the new ball field built up by the Lions who sponsored the local team. The traditional "red lane" where good food travels so easily saw no parking lots as quantities of French fries done by Grant McCachen, were hungrily consumed. Dancing found a ready market on both evenings. Pies donated by Lions wives sold out fast.

The Dr. Ballard Mutt Show drew its full quota of entries, with plenty of interest to spectators.

The sprightly panda bear with its complement of ten one-dollar bills went to Mrs. Stonehouse. Winners for the best decorated doll carriage feature were Linda Munsen, Marilyn Balsonello, Judy Gamble, Bonnie White. The best decorated bicycle awards were won by John Teravain, Gordon Graves, Bobbie Dion and Vicky Ryman.

No mishaps occurred to mar the pleasure of the carnival.

In its objective to better the community on every possible level, Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox Ratepayers' Association tackled problems affecting the lives and welfare of district residents at a recent meeting. While such matters as traffic control, garbage and ditches, and personal responsibility in municipal elections and local government have long been in the minds of ratepayers, a concerted effort to confront problems now is possible through the association recently formed with a membership of 75 members.

Several advocated the services of an additional constable to control speeding by motorists and motor cyclists, especially in the Lake Wilcox area where heavy weekend traffic and an apparent disregard of speed limit signs make the roadway unsafe. Whitchurch township council will be approached regarding an extra constable, at least for summer months.

Tax on garbage collection came in for discussion also. Any difference in payment being made by ratepayers can be attributed to the method of taxation which is presently based on property assessment, president Renwick stated. Some felt a flat rate would be preferable to the present system. In order to clarify the situation Mr. Renwick suggested a copy of the garbage by-law be obtained for study by members before any steps be taken.

A volunteer fire brigade for Lake Wilcox equipped with chemical apparatus to control outbreaks until the arrival of the Aurora fire department serving the district was considered. Present equipment is either frozen under, or under mud, for much of the time, commented members. The condition of certain ditches was well aired figuratively.

candidate for the Whitchurch township council in this year's municipal elections. Stanley Rule, who had formerly competed in this field, was named the nominee. Mr. Rule thanked the association for its unanimous choice in selecting him as the prospective candidate. He is of the opinion that the growing numbers of year-round residents strongly point to an election of a representative for the municipal body of the township. He believes a consciousness in municipal affairs and management is the responsibility of the community of citizens.

The formation of an Association Ladies' Auxiliary has been left until the constitution of the association has been formally drawn up and approved. "We would be burning the candle four ways to organize an auxiliary at this stage," the president declared.

Here's a bargain for you!

I will run a dozen errands

... make appointments, do your shopping

... stand guard over your safety

... carry you to the side of a sick friend

... save you worry, and effort, and hours

... make your work easier, your life pleasanter.

How would you measure your telephone's true worth?

Its endless convenience. Its life-saving speed in time of need.

The steadily growing number of people it brings within your reach . . . All these things contribute to the sum-total of telephone value.

Yet in dollars-and-cents cost, your telephone remains one of the smallest items in your family budget; even a smaller part than it was before the war.

Today, as always, your telephone is big value.

THE BELL TELEPHONE

COMPANY OF CANADA

IF YOU ARE WAITING FOR A TELEPHONE, or for a higher grade of service, you have our assurance that you will have it just as quickly as service. Our continuing goal is to provide the necessary facilities. Our continuing goal is to provide the kind of service to all who want it, when and where they want it.

TO CANADIAN RAILROADERS AND THE CANADIAN PUBLIC

It is important that you understand clearly why the managements of Canada's railways believe a railway strike is absolutely unnecessary.

Our reason for this conviction is that we have made the employees involved in the present dispute a fair offer of wage increases and improvements in working conditions which, if applied to all employees, will cost us $37,000,000 a year.

We have further acknowledged a moral obligation to implement the 40-hour week at the appropriate time, and we have explained why, in fairness to Canadian industry and all other employers of labour, we cannot put it into effect now.

To do otherwise would be to perform a dis-service to industry in general and to all employers and employees alike.

The railways, after making two previous offers which the union leaders rejected, have now made

Not only is a railway strike unnecessary now, but furthermore, because of the tense international situation, it would endanger the entire Dominion. As the presidents of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways said in a joint statement to the representatives of the unions last Thursday:

"The present situation...imposes a nerve strain on all concerned at a time when we badly need to devote all our energies and thoughts to the grave threat of war and a national emergency ... It leaves the railway employee in a most uncertain and unhappy frame of mind because we are morally certain he does not wish to walk out on his job at a time like this, no matter what issues are involved . . . this opinion seems diametrically opposed to the strike ballot which has been reported by the unions, but railway management retains too high an opinion of the loyalty, steadfastness and sense of responsibility of their employees to believe a strike would not mean a heart-breaking situation for them. That is not to say they will not carry out their undertaking to strike if union leaders decide to call upon them to do so but as already stated, it will cause great unhappiness and self-reproach."

The importance of the railways in Canada's economy cannot be exaggerated. Never was that importance more apparent than in World War II. And without the loyalty and intense effort of all railway employees, Canada's magnificent war effort would have been ima third and final offer which gives the employees the choice of either:

an increase in wages averaging 8½ cents per hour, or a reduction in the basic work week from 48 to 44 hours, with an increase in wage rates of 9.1% so as to maintain or in some cases improve present "take home" pay.

The labour leaders have made no concessions at all and have refused to budge from their original demands for a 5-day 40-hour week with maintenance of present "take home" pay, and in addition increases of 7 cents and 10 cents an hour.

The railways are thoroughly conscious of, and sympathetic to, the problems of their employees resulting from higher costs of living.

Drastic, unwarranted reductions in hours of work instead of decreasing these problems will inevitably increase them.

possible. The same holds true today. As the presidents further stated:

"... the general public is inconvenienced and business arrangements are made uncertain so long as the likelihood of a strike persists. Moreover, a railway strike would so cripple our economy that it would weaken for a long time our ability to take a strong line in international affairs and thus give great comfort to the enemy. Therefore, railway management feels strongly that the issues must be faced resolutely so that all interests, the worker, the public, and the Government, as well as the unions and railway management, will know precisely what is facing them. The time has come to remove this uncertainty which hangs as a blight over our day-to-day life."

WITH THESE CONSIDERATIONS IN MIND, THE RAILWAYS HAVE MADE THIS OFFER AS THE ULTIMATE THAT COULD POSSIBLY BE EXPECTED OF THEM, AND IT GIVES A SETTLEMENT WHICH WILL LEAVE RAILWAY WORKERS IN AN EXTREMELY FAVOURABLE POSITION COMPARED TO OTHER INDUSTRIAL WORKERS.

HERE IS OUR OFFER

The final offer which excludes hotel and water transport employees is as follows:

(1) Recognition by railway management of a moral obligation to implement the 40-hour week at the appropriate time.

(2) Recognition by the unions in principle, subject to negotiation in detail, of minor amendments to existing contracts covering working rules to bring about more efficient operation.

(3) EITHER

(A) A 44-hour basic work week with a 9.1% increase in hourly rates

so as to maintain "take home" pay. In regard to monthly rated clerical employees there will be an understanding that a 5-day actual work week may be granted by local arrangement in selected cases where the hours now actually worked are less than 44, on condition that the requirements of the service are protected up to 44 hours per week.

OR (B) A graduated increase in basic wage rates approximately equivalent in expense to that involved under Plan A. When applied to all employees, this would cost the railways $37,000,000 per year, and would average 8½ cents per hour.

WEDS R. H. BELL

The marriage of Shirley Kathleen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Deller, Peterborough, and Raymond Henry Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bell, Cobourg, was solemnized in St. John's Anglican church on Saturday, August 12, 1950. Rev. Archdeacon Robertson officiated. Organ music was played by Mr. F. G. Mann. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ice blue nylon marquisette with a Peter Pan collar and tiny self-covered buttons extending to just below the waist. Her fingertip veil of pale blue net was held in place with a tiara of pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli and orchids. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a boutonniere of pink gladioli and orchids. Miss June Deller, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a gown of daffodil yellow nylon marquisette fashioned similar to the bride's, a matching coronet of flowers and carried a bouquet of orchid gladioli and gypsophila. Mr. Ronald Bell, Cobourg, brother of the groom, was groomsmen. Later the bride and groom left for Boston, Mass., and other points in the United States. For travelling the bride wore a dress of printed silk with a white straw hat, white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Bell will reside at 367 Ball St., Cobourg.

be could have meant me

"I remember how I'd looked forward to that game... how I'd prayed for just one afternoon's relief from miserable, sluggish, half-sick feelings. But even before I started for the park, I felt 'all in'. When the Ump called the first 'Out', he could have been looking right at me.

"But on the way home I saw Kruschen Salts displayed in a drug store window. Next morning I took my first small dose of Kruschen. Right from the first, it quickly brought me the relief I needed. Now I'm regular with Kruschen... enjoying my meals again... and every day, I'm 'right in there' pitching!"

If bad digestion, "irregularity" and that worn-out, listless feeling have "3 strikes" on you—try a little Kruschen Salts with your morning fruit juice, tea or coffee. Helps you get and keep "regular"... helps knock out sluggish, "liverish" feelings... gives you pep that wins! Ask your druggist.

Any woman who has the buying to do for a family has been more than slightly conscious of the steady increases in prices these past few months. But it still comes as a bit of a shock to see the actual figures released by the department of statistics. No wonder the pay envelope didn't go so far last week.

In the month ending July 1, the cost-of-living index rose to a high of 167.5. This was an increase of 2.1 from June 1 and was accounted for in rises in the prices of food and rent as well as such items as coal, coke and gasoline. Eggs generally advanced ten cents per dozen and potatoes showed an increase of nine cents per ten pounds.

The cost-of-living index is based on the prices existing during the period from 1935 to 1939 so that these new increases reduce the value of the consumer's dollar to less than 60 cents compared with pre-war prices. In some figures quoted for June 1 when the index stood at 165.4 it was stated that a dollar spent for food would buy only as much as 48 cents would buy in 1939. (You can carry out under one arm the groceries a $10 bill will purchase now.)

Other figures showed that compared to pre-war times, a dollar spent for clothing was now worth about 55 cents, for home furnishings slightly less than 60 cents, and for rent about 75 cents.

ATROPHY

We got into a very interesting debate the other evening on the atrophying of talents through lack of use and the possibility of bringing a seemingly non-existent or dormant talent into being by patient and intelligent cultivation. We see proof every day of both these premises.

I have seen boys and girls who took music seriously enough to be able to play in a way that was acceptable not only to the critics but to a wide circle who wanted something worth listening to and not, as one person remarked, "just a pleasing noise". But then the girl married and the man lost himself in business and sad to say, in eight cases out of ten, music became not even a secondary consideration but a tenth or 11th, and finally went into the discard. A talent made to give pleasure became atrophied from lack of use.

Then there are the talents that lie dormant. We knew a girl who came into our choir in Brockville protesting that she couldn't sing a note and I'll confess the sounds she produced were not pleasing. But we had a painstaking choir master who believed that everyone can sing and he persevered until she did sing. Of course, it's a matter of co-operation—if she had not put forth every effort to second his efforts, the results would have been nil.

In our talk the other evening, we asked our host, Mr. Dennison, if he did not, after he began to paint, see a thousand things that he was not conscious of before and that our uneducated eyes would miss entirely? He answered us that he could see and feel color shades and nuances—unthought of before his eye was trained to give its true message to his waiting hand.

Then we had been having some music and Miss Helen Robertson said she loved listening to music but she could not produce a note. This aroused the other half of the family to a frenzy of denial, for like his teacher, he believes that music is universal, that it is as natural to sing as to talk, that if we can appreciate music, we can produce it, that if we think hard enough of a sound, we can make that sound. In this I agree with him wholeheartedly for we have accomplished the seemingly impossible for more than one person who firmly believed that music was a closed book to them.

Look what can be done with a speaking voice—and what should be done with some we have to listen to over the radio and walking about in the flesh! Miss Helen Richardson told me that that was one thing that was being taken up in the summer courses—voice production. I have talked to children when it was an effort to know what they were saying. Parents and teachers should consider that a pleasing voice is a life long asset and act accordingly.

Why do we all relax and settle back with a sense of rest and enjoyment when Leonard Brockington speaks over the radio? The beauty of voice and diction are absolutely restful. We Canadians have not the nasal twang that spoils a great many American voices, but we are developing a sharpness that I think comes from the hurrying and scurrying which seem necessary to get us through our lives. We are letting the beauty of quiet voices and manners atrophy and cultivating the incisive, for one

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Dora depended on whining

Dora Mae, four years old, has resorted to whining to gain attention at home.

The first time Dora Mae started to whine, her mother decided to ignore her. Dora Mae's mother was resolved that her child wouldn't grow into a whiner; she preferred an occasional cry baby to a whiner. In any event, she wouldn't give in to her child as long as she persisted in whining. However, by the end of two days of incessant whining, it seemed apparent that the ignoring method had failed completely.

Mother changed her tactics and relieved her own temper by soundly spanking Dora Mae. The child was unaccustomed to spankings and was hurt inwardly more than outwardly. She went sobbing to her room—where her mother found her a few minutes later, very flushed and with a high temperature.

Dora Mae had scarlet fever—that accounted for her whining in the first place. During the anxious days that followed, everyone was at Dora Mae's beck and call. It really didn't matter if her frail, thin voice sounded like a whine—it was pleasant to hear her wanting things again.

So it happened, months afterward, Dora Mae was getting the attention she wanted by whining. It wasn't just a case of low resistance this time; it was a case of practising a tried and proven method of gaining attention—a method she had learned during her convalescence.

It wasn't until Dora Mae tried her method on a guest in the house that mother took action again. She had been nursing a sense of guilt because of the still very vivid previous experience. The action mother took this time was quite different. She decided Dora Mae must be tired or she wouldn't whine so the discipline was for her to take a picture book into another room and sit quietly away from the conversation. She was free to return after she was rested.

Sometimes Dora Mae still has to be reminded of the discipline—but since the whining avails her nothing, she is breaking the irritating habit.

Summer vegetable specials

Whatever the outward appearance, all summer squash is quite similar in flavor. Vegetable marrow is a great favorite on European tables but is often overlooked by Canadian homemakers. This vegetable must be used when young as it develops a stringy coarseness as it matures.

Too often this juicy vegetable is cooked in a quantity of water and when served is water-logged and unappetizing. Being of such delicate texture, vegetable marrow does require special attention in cooking but good results warrant a little extra care.

Summer squash such as Cympling, Crookneck, Zucchini and the patty pans are used when quite small before the seeds have developed or the skin toughened. They are used without peeling and the centre section is not removed.

Summer squash is delicious when sliced crosswise in one-inch slices, dipped in egg and crumbs and sautéed in hot fat until delicately browned and tender.

STUFFED VEGETABLE MARROW

1 small vegetable marrow
2 cups soft stale bread crumbs
1 tsp. chopped onion
2 tsp. chopped parsley

1/2 tsp. pepper
2 tsp. butter

Cut marrow in half lengthwise and remove seeds. Place halves on a greased baking sheet. Mix bread crumbs, onion, parsley, meat, salt and pepper and fill marrow halves. Dot top with butter. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 1 hour. Yield: six servings.

VEGETABLE MARROW CASSEROLE

1/2 cup sliced onion
6 medium tomatoes, sliced
1 tsp. salt

2 tsp. butter

Needlecraft News

by Pauline Roy

CHILDREN'S and infants' clothes are fun to make. The tiny seams can be sewed up so quickly that before you know it, you're finished. The real fun begins when you start adding dainty trimming touches. You can use your ingenuity in achieving original effects. Use the types of trimmings you most like, and place them where you think they look the prettiest.

Embroidered and ruffled edgings make crisp trimmings for children's garments. When applying a ruffled edge, place right side of edging down on the right side of the edge to which it is to be joined. Place a bias facing strip of the material or of bias tape on the top of the ruffle, and then baste and stitch the three layers together. Crease back the seam on the garment, and then turn under the raw edge of the facing strip and hem it down.

Bands used as trimming are an excellent means of introducing contrast, either of color, pattern or texture. You can cut bias pieces from the fabric you are using, but for ease and time-saving you can use bias fold tape very effectively. This tape has elasticity for going around necklines. Single fold bias trim should be pinned where it is to be used for trimming, then basted 1/2 from each folded edge. Miter the tape wherever there is a square corner. Stitch close to the folded edges. Remove basting and press on the wrong side.

Rows of different colored rick rack will brighten up many children's outfits. Interesting braid can be made by twisting two pieces of rick rack of the same size but different colors together. For a different trim effect try tacking several rows of rick rack together point-to-point for a beautiful lacy trim in monotone or multicolor.

Yes, kiddies' clothes leave lots of scope for the imagination whether they be summer, fall or winter garments. The perky pleated skirt and stole worn by the little miss in the picture is just one example of the wonderful "back-to-school" plans which are being shown for fall 1950. Of recent years, tartans have become the No. 1 fabric for every youngster from kindergarten to college and this year is no exception.

To have instructions (in sizes 2 to 6) for this PLEATED SKIRT AND STOLE just write to the Needlework Department of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and request Leaflet No. 55-24.

Aluminum plates give Bakery pies that "homemade" flavour

An "Inside Story"

1. Baked in aluminum plates and brought to these same aluminum plates—that's why so many "over-the-counter" pies taste as good as the homemade kind.
2. Aluminum plates give you tender, thoroughly baked pies with the delicious juices all sealed in.
3. Aluminum plates mean no more broken pies for the baker... no more thick, soggy bottom crusts for you!
4. No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. When you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of perfectly protected flavor, quality.

Hints to the Housewife

The natural minerals in foods and water sometimes leave a dark deposit on cooking utensils. It's easily removed from aluminum. Simply use a tablespoon of vinegar in boiling water.

Gals end loop play Take Midland 6-4

Newmarket Ladies closed their regular season in the Barrie and District League on just the right note here Thursday. They defeated Midland "Merchants" 6-4. The win assured the Courtney-VanZant contingent of first place in the group standing. Now they'll have to sit back and await the results of several postponements to find out the opposition in the semi-finals.

Hester Clark returned to check Midland on five hits—and was the boss all the way. Two of Midland's four runs were unearned—the other two justly deserved. Midland's first pair came after Newmarket opened up a 4-0 gap in the first two rounds. Mary Osborne—usually right on the target—fired a hurried peg wide to Edna McGrath at first and with two on, that meant a pair of counters. Midland's other pair came in the sixth on a walk and a pair of back-back singles. They tied the count at four all.

Newmarket thundered out of the stalemate with two runs in the bottom of the sixth. Mary Osborne with a double into right, Mona Dean lifted a shot in the same direction that skipped away from the Midland outfielder and scored the tie-breaker. Hester Clark followed up with a single to put two on. Muriel Rawn decided to walk. Phil McInnis to populate the bases. Muriel then obligingly tossed up four wild ones to give Mary Ellen McInnis a free trip and forced in a run. That boosted the locals into a 6-4 and that's how it stayed as Hester Clark took care of Midland's seventh in one-two-three order.

Phil McInnis continued her phenomenal clouting with two hits starting the locals on their way to a three-run rally in the first stanza with a wrong field double. Phil's other hit, a skipper down third, plated the fourth run in the second frame. Mary Osborne was also in a hitting mood with two, both two-baggers. Mary Ellen McInnis, Lois Manning, Arlene Moore and Hester Clark punched out a hit each.

Fielding highlights were supplied by Pauline Bovair with a grandstand catch at short that started a double-ply killing on

Brampton takes town To top tournament

Frank Hollingsworth's first attempt at a pee-wee baseball tournament Saturday was a success even though Newmarket nippers had to be content with second prize. Brampton "Smoothies," specializing in grandstand finishes, took first prize.

Brampton defeated Newmarket in the finals held in the evening at Stuart Scott diamond by an 11-10 count. Latter contest went only four frames. It was the second time during the course of the tournament that Brampton won a one-run decision from our small fry. In the opening game Brampton staged a seven-run rally in the seventh to snare a 15-14 decision.

In the opening game at the fair grounds, Bill Mundell's Aurora "Tigers" defeated Bill Mitchell's Lindsay nine 14-3. Newmarket moved over to the fair grounds to defeat Aurora 13-8. Brampton at the Stuart Scott grounds eked out a 7-6 decision over Lindsay. Newmarket "Optimists" moved back to the Stuart Scott diamond to trounce Lindsay 14-3, while Aurora and Brampton went an extra innings without breaking an eight all deadlock. That put Brampton with two wins and a tie in the finals against Newmarket with two wins and a loss. Brampton with a seven-run first frame held on to take down the championship with an 11-10 decision over Newmarket.

Recreation Director Hollingsworth wishes to thank the umpiring staff of Jack Hamilton, Ken Flett, Harry Thoms, Grant Blight, Bev. Ruddock, Harry Noble, Ernie Miller and "Dint" Barber for their assistance in the various games.

its way. Phil McInnis was also front and centre with some fancy fielding on the other side of the keystone sack.

Frances Brodeur was the only Midlander boasting any luck with Hester Clark's pitching—topping their five-hit lists with two.

TIE AURORA IN NET RACE WIN HERE 6-2

The undefeated Aurora Tennis Club has finally been stopped. Newmarket racquet wielders stopped them last Wednesday at the Newmarket courts as the first and second teams in the North York Tennis League clashed.

Newmarket came out of the competition with a cheering 6-2 victory. The win moved the local club into a tie for top position in the North York League race. Newmarket made a sweep of the men's doubles with the Bob Yates-Keith Davis vs. Aurora duo of Frank Wims and Pat Davies, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2; Dr. John Dales and Chas. Lee defeated Keith Nisbett and David Hector, 6-4, 6-0.

Results with Newmarket players named first were: men's doubles: Bob Yates and Keith Davis defeated Frank Wims and Pat Davies, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2; Dr. John Dales and Chas. Lee defeated Keith Nisbett and David Hector, 6-4, 6-0.

Ladies' doubles: Margaret Davis and Mary Dales lost to Connie Willis and Ruth Corner, 4-6, 1-6; Joan Peppiatt and Joyce Bothwell defeated Betty Boulding and June Adams, 6-0, 6-3.

Mixed doubles: Joan Peppiatt and Keith Davis won over Connie Willis and Pat Davies, 6-3; Margaret Davis and Bob Yates were defeated by Ruth Corner and Frank Wims, 2-6; Joyce Bothwell and Dr. John Dales defeated Betty Boulding and Keith Nisbett, 6-4; Mary Dales and Chas. Lee won over June Adams and David Hector, 6-2.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Death, Injury Strike Athletes

Sportsmen were saddened on the weekend to learn of the death by drowning of Tommy Cain, son of Larry "Farmer" Cain, former Newmarket boy, and Rob Randall, both members of the 1950 Collingwood Green-shirts junior club which ousted Aurora Blackhawks from the O.H.A. junior "C" finals. The 18-year-old Cain and the 20-year-old Randall had gone fishing in Georgian Bay in a dinghy on Saturday afternoon and while no winds were reported, the waves were rolling heavy and must have overturned the craft which turned up Sunday at Wasaga Beach.

These two fine young men were both expert swimmers and accustomed to fishing in Georgian Bay. Cain was an up-and-coming defenceman who planned to stay in Collingwood this winter, before moving on to higher company. Randall, captain of the Collingwood team last winter, had played his final year of junior but he was certainly for Collingwood intermediates. Randall did not appear in the Aurora series, having been injured in the Simcoe games. Sympathy is extended to the families of both youngsters.

Army recruiting for Korea and the permanent force continues in the district and latest recruits from the Aurora area are soft-baller Earl MacDonald, a veteran of world war two, who left for Petawawa and the Korean brigade on Monday, and Joe Crookford, who played goal part time for Aurora Indians last winter. Joe, who is at Camp Borden, is the two-game sensation who filled in from the crowd for the injured Joe Hogan. While not known for their athletic ability, other Aurora lads to answer the call in recent days have been Bruce Underhill, son of arena commission chairman Frank Underhill, Bert Armitage, Mel Newton and Joe Millet. We'd appreciate being advised of others who don the khaki, air force or navy blue.

Mount Carmel A. C. from the Davisville senior league, who featured the softball card at Queensville two weeks ago, losing out by one run to Buttonville in the finals, will headline the Aurora Legion softball card next Saturday when they meet a North Yonge all-star team gathered by Tom Dickson and Charlie VanZant. The game gets underway at 5.30. We need not remind you that Office Specialty of the Newmarket Town League and Collis Leather, leaders in the Aurora Town League, are also slated to go at 1.30 p.m. and Hart Ladies and Schomberg will clash at 3.30. Dancing, amateur shows, bingo and a big midway are other features of the big annual Aurora show which gets underway on Friday night. The big car draw is slated for Saturday at 11.30. Better get your ticket right now.

Norman Lane, who has been on the staff of St. Andrew's College for some years and was in charge of sports prior to Horace Kendall and Aub. Holmes, is now on the staff of Carleton College at Ottawa. One of Canada's greatest canoeists, Lane has twice been to the Olympic games and many times a champion with the Balm Beach club. He won the Canadian singles crown at Ottawa on the weekend as a member of the Ottawa Rideau Club.

For the first time district Legion lawn bowlers will compete in a tournament at Orangeville this month being arranged by Bayard Bryant of Woodbridge. Better contact your local Legion for information if interested.

Last week we reported that John Stuart was likely retiring from the racing game. On Friday, the sales were held at Hamilton and of the 15 horses listed, only one changed hands. The others, on which there were reserve bids listed as high as $8,500 for Double Briar, and $6,000 for Bunty Line, were purchased by John Stuart from John Stuart Stables. Stuart himself used the gavel as auctioneer and was consignor and principal buyer. There were few in attendance and the real racing owners just didn't bid, we are told.

This smacks somewhat of big business transactions with interchange of finances and directorates. The general public won't understand it all, but few of those who place wagers will care. We hope to have a statement from Mr. Stuart in the not too distant future with a few well chosen words about the transaction and the racing moguls. It should be most interesting. Hoot mon, and lang mae your lum leak, the Tartan colors will still be seen on the tracks.

That great little sportsman, Bill Wilkinson, met with an unfortunate motorcycle accident last week which may cripple him for life or at least incapacitate him for many months. The quiet, gentlemanly "Wilkie" broke into hockey with Aurora midgets and has played sound hockey every year since. Last winter he suffered a broken leg in pre-season workouts which kept him side-lined for the year, and perhaps cost Aurora the junior "C" crown, for Bill was always an inspired player in the play-offs.

After that, he sustained a broken hand at work, so that the lad has really been jinxed the past year. Harold Rogers has suggested a pre-season hockey match to aid the heavy expenses. Aurora Canadian Legion will donate free use of their hall to any organization sponsoring "a do" for Bill and elsewhere you'll read of an appeal for funds. We hope you can do your bit.

We hope Metro prexy, Johnny Hines, and all his executive will this season plump hard for an injured players' fund in four figures to aid those who bear the brunt of sports the hard way, and to at least provide insurance coverage. With artificial ice in most of the centres, a night at each place would do the trick. Stouffville Clippers are being sought for the Metro loop right now and a decision should be made soon. If Stouffville comes you can expect Markham Millionaires also. What a circuit, if Aurora and Newmarket bolster their teams! Bradford and Sutton will both be stronger this year for sure and Woodbridge likewise will be ready to face the barrier with a smart entry. Travelling mileage small, at least four artificial ice arenas ready to help with an early start and late finish, and real rivalry between natural rivals.

If rules are going to hurt the circuit, who cares about it being O.H.A. affiliated. You can't tell me the players wouldn't prefer their cut of happy cabbage thick. Most of them are through with the glory stuff. Let's hear an official pronouncement soon.

Bradford comes back To take North Peel 12-8

After being swamped by North Peel 17-5 in a lacrosse match at Orangeville earlier in the week, Bradford took down a 12-8 home win Friday over those self-same North Peellers. If North Peel had a mind to put the blame on anyone in particular for Friday's loss, it had to be Roy "Mutt" Collings. "Mutt" cut a large figure in the scoring statistics with six goals. Gordon Compton and Harry Legge had two each. Lorne Widdess for the visiting Peelmens almost matched "Mutt" Collings, beating Tommy Bulpit on five occasions.

Only in the first session, when North Peel came out leading 3-1, were Bradford sailing astern. They took over the lead with four goals in the second, increased it in the third and held their own in the final period.

Bradford: Goal, Bulpit; defense, Standeven, Johnston; centre, B. Collings; rover, R. Collings; wings, K. Collings, H. Legge; alternates, Compton, Buchanan, James, Evans, Mashinter, McQuarrie.

Minding my own BUSINESS!

... like so many people
I had to learn to "mind my own business".
... but first I had to get myself a business to mind... it wasn't easy
... but it wasn't hard either... My big trouble was I wasn't "self-starting" enough... when I worked as a clerk in an office... I'd think of lots of good ideas to help the firm... I worked for. But I failed to think up ideas to help myself. Then, one day I got a really good idea. I opened a Savings Account... And after a very short time, found I had more money... than I could spend on immediate needs. So I went to the head... of my firm and said I'd like to start an agency... to sell his products. Because I had money to invest... mattered to him. But what mattered even more was that I was wise enough to save my money. So, today, I mind my own business... give my firm all the good ideas I get... and continue to save money to make my business grow. It is good to have ideas. And it is also good to have the money to carry them out. If you have saved wisely and well... your credit is sure to be good. And a good place to save is The Dominion Bank.

Whenever you visit any Branch of The Dominion Bank, you'll find friendly, courteous and efficient service. Drop in today!
